CLAIM CURTIS HAS NOT TOLD ALL Clean-Up Of $5,000,000 In Market Pool Is Revealed

WIZARDS OF FINANCE IN BIG PROFIT

Operations Uncovered During Market Probe Before Committee Today RASKOB IS LEADER

Associated With Rockefeller and Fisher Bros. in Radio Pool of 1929

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(UP)—The operations of a radio pool which in a single week gained profits of nearly $5,000,000 for its participants were described as the banking and currency committee resumed public hearings on its stock market investigation.

Men well known in the world of finance and politics—Percy Rockefeller, Walter P. Chrysler, John J. Raskob, the Fisher brothers and others—were listed as having profited handsomely during the quick turnover of stocks that were increasing in value by leaps and bounds.

William A. Gray, committee counsel, told of the results of his investigation, occasionally asking corroboration from Thomas E. Bragg, one of the pool managers. Bragg was the first witness as the hearings were resumed.

The pool operated in March, 1929, and the profit was accumulated during seven days of operation during which the pool was said to have traded in 1,495,400 shares of stock.

Gray said first that the pool participants put up $9,667,500 through W. E. Hutton and company, and split a profit of $3,217,500. As he progressed in his statement he changed this figure and said that aggregate of $12,683,000 was put up, with profits aggregating $4,924,078.

The firms that participated in the pool were M. J. Meehan and company, E. F. Hutton and company, and Block, Maloney and company, three of the leading stock exchange members.

Chrysler, the motor magnate, Raskob, Democratic national chairman, and former head of General Motors, and the Fisher

UNDERCOVER AGENT HELD BY OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(UP)—Ray Bordeaux, said to be a federal undercover agent, was questioned by police today as they sought to solve the alleged gang-murder of Luigi Malvese, 26-year-old asserted San Francisco gangster.

Bordeaux was questioned after Malvese's fiancée, whose name was not disclosed, told authorities Bordeaux had predicted Malvese's "sudden death" yesterday.

Malvese was shot five times as he sat in his automobile in front of a North Beach barber shop. Scores of pedestrians, hurrying by, heard the shots, but none, police said, would admit seeing them fired.

Malvese's slayer escaped in the crowd which gathered around the slain man's car.

RESOLUTION TO OPEN PAYROLLS REPORTED OUT

Warren Bill Provides for Making Public Records Now Kept Secret

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(UP)—The Warren resolution, directing the clerk of the House to open to inspection payroll records which are kept secret, was reported favorably to the House today by the committee on accounts.

If the House adopts the resolution to open up its secret payroll records, an unidentified assortment of mysterious figures known as "contact men" will be disclosed nestling among more than a thousand persons on the list, in among the wives, children, "in-laws," the aged and infirm.

These men, carried on the House payroll as clerks, stay in the congressman's home district. Their duties vary. Some are law partners of members and the government pay of perhaps $200 or so a month—the congressman can fix it at any amount up to $3900 a year—may be used to take care of the congressman's share of general office expenses. Often it will pay the office rent and a stenographer.

Some of these contact men are relatives, who may or may not do anything. One son of a prominent member manages his father's business interests. Another is a newspaper correspondent. One is a mysterious woman who could not be located, though an extensive search of the district was made. She apparently was unknown in the member's home town. But she still gets her payroll check from the clerk of the House, or at least there is a name on the payroll.

One senator has a bank president on the payroll as his "con-

GOVERNOR SOON TO DECIDE ON REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(UP)—Gov. James Rolph's final decision on whether he will call a special session of the state legislature to consider California's $875,000 water conservation program today was believed to be forthcoming shortly.

The governor's special water commission, appointed to study the state's water plan, adopted a proposed constitutional amendment similar to that endorsed by a joint legislative water committee several weeks ago, a majority of the commission announced.

Their report will be submitted to the governor shortly, they said. They would not say if they were recommending a special session.

A minority report was to be submitted to the governor also because of what was described as strenuous objections of the majority report.

SEVENTY-EIGHT ON LINER ARE MISSING

PARIS, May 19.—(UP)—Seventy-eight passengers and crew of the liner Georges Philippar were missing today, Messageries Maritimes, owners of the ship, announced after checking lists of survivors at Aden and Djibuti and communicating with ships which were at the scene of the disaster.

Albert Londres, famous French journalist who was returning to France from Shanghai, was among the missing.

The ship's owners said two lifeboats were missing which might contain the 78 passengers unaccounted for.

The Georges Philippar carried 505 passengers of four classes, 24 officers, and 238 crew, a total of 767. The total number of survivors landed at Aden and Djibuti was 689.

Mrs. Hoover At Meeting Of Iowa Society

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(UP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover was among the guests of honor at a gathering of the Iowa society last night at the Willard hotel.

A program of music by Iowans living in the national capital was rendered during the evening. The first lady was accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Rickard of New Canaan, Conn., Mrs. Stark McMullin, one of her secretaries, and two white house aides.

Among the other guests were most of the Iowa members of Congress, including Senator and Mrs. Smith W. Brookhart and Senator and Mrs. Dickinson.

WM. C. JEROME SEEKS OFFICE AS SUPERVISOR

Formally Announces He is Candidate From First County District

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT of his candidacy for the post of county supervisor for the first district, Santa Ana, was made today by W. C. Jerome, well known business man and former county auditor.

Jerome asserts he feels he is qualified to give the citizens of the district and the county satisfactory service, that he has no special interests or groups to serve, and that he has knowledge and training for the post which he will use to the benefit of the citizens and taxpayers.

The text of his formal announcement follows:

"I want at this time to make a public announcement of my candidacy for the office of county supervisor for the first district and to assure my friends that I will appreciate exceedingly any decent and honorable efforts that they may put forth in my behalf.

"My reasons for aspiring to this office are that I want the job and I feel that I am qualified to give the citizens of this district and the county as a whole, a service that will be satisfactory.

"I am a free man with no special interests or groups to serve, my life here has been peaceful and I have no enemies to punish.

"I have lived here all my life, been in business for over 30 years and served you as a public servant for over half that time. I have had the opportunity to know the history, the people and the government of this county from its formation till today as well as any man has and I believe I can use this knowledge and training for the benefit of the citizens and taxpayers and will do so to the best of my ability if elected to this very important office."

CLAIMS FILED ON BANKRUPT ESTATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(UP)—Claims totaling $14,000,000 against the bankrupt estate of James A. Talbot, Richfield Oil company executive who was sentenced to prison on a grand theft charge at Los Angeles Wednesday, were investigated here today.

Aaron Cohen, attorney for the trustee of Talbot's estate, said several of the claims would be contested.

The largest claim was that of the Richfield Oil company, which sought $9,500,000 on charges Talbot was negligent as chairman of the Richfield board in ordering dividends when the company was financially unable to pay them. It will be contested, Cohen said.

The Federal government's claim for $400,000 alleged due in income taxes also will be resisted, he said.

BOMBAY FACES PLAGUE AFTER SEVERE RIOTS

Many Bodies Still Remain in Streets; Supply of Water Cut Off

BOMBAY, May 19.—(UP)—Bombay was threatened by plague today as debris of five days of murder and arson lay in the streets and the waterworks remained closed as a precaution against further riots.

Fighting between Hindus and Moslems which had caused more than 100 deaths and more injuries than the city's hospitals could care for, spread to the mill area. Police tried to disperse gatherings of excited millhands. There were numerous stabbings and beatings and police fired into mobs.

Four persons were killed and 70 were injured last night in street fights in the shopping district. Many mill were closed forcibly by mill workers.

The disturbances disrupted sanitary services of the city and garbage collections ceased. Many bodies remained in the streets of the Hindu quarter, other parts of the city were covered with filth, and the tropical sun rapidly made the situation more serious.

Six persons were killed and 35 were wounded in today's rioting but the number was small compared with the toll of the four previous days of fighting. Hindus did not pass into Moslem territory, but several Moslems were discovered in the Hindu section disguised as Hindus.

DIRIGIBLE MOORED AT PACIFIC BASE

SUNNYVALE, Cal., May 19.—(UP)—The naval dirigible Akron was to remain moored at the air base here today, following completion of her leisurely 14-hour journey over California inland towns.

She moved at 7:25 p. m. Wednesday. She was scheduled to fly over the Sacramento valley Friday and north along the coast May 23.

LINDBERGH SENDS SYMPATHY TO WIDOW

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh forgot his own sorrows to console the widow of a flying partner of his barnstorming days, it was learned today.

Col. Lindbergh dispatched a telegram to Mrs. Jack Lynch, whose husband was killed in an airplane accident with W. A. Clark III in Arizona last Sunday.

Plan Draws Plaudits Of House Today

Speaker Says Solution for Problem Necessary Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(UP)—Speaker Garner today made public a three-fold program for relieving distress and unemployment. His plan includes enactment of the so-called Huddleston bill placing $100,000,000 at the disposal of the president for relief of suffering; an increase of $1,000,000,000 in the capitalization of the Reconstruction Finance corporation; and a billion dollar bond issue to finance a huge government building program.

The Democratic leader declared that while he was "unalterably opposed" to the dole it was "apparent" that before congress adjourns a real effort must be made toward solution of the unemployment problem.

Garner's announcement follows the general lines of relief plans suggested in the senate.

Word of the Garner relief program caused excitement in the House. The membership applauded as Rep. La Guardia, Republican, New York, read the plan and predicted strong support.

"I for one want to congratulate Speaker Garner on his statement," La Guardia said. "I predict that the membership will support the plan of the speaker wholeheartedly."

Republican Floor Leader Snell told the United Press the Garner plan was "quite a complete program."

CALIFORNIA STATE EMPLOYEES ORGANIZE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 19.—(UP)—Formal organization of the California State Employees association has been completed today with filing of articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

The association represents 12,000 of the state's 17,000 employees and will maintain headquarters at Sacramento, the articles state.

The board of directors, headed by Paul O. Harding, San Francisco, president of the association, includes the following: Douglas A. Campbell and Miss Grace Beck, Los Angeles; Earl W. Chapman, Jess Hession, Roy P. Womack, F. A. Taylor and Gordon Zander, Sacramento; C. E. O'Connell, San Bernardino; Elmer H. Griswold, Patton; Mrs. Mae Barr Long, San Francisco, and R. E. Jeffrey, Inola.

DO-X BEGINS ITS RETURN JOURNEY

GLENN H. CURTISS AIRPORT, NORTH BEACH, L. I., May 19.—(UP)—The German flying boat DO-X, with passenger capacity for more than 100 persons, took off for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, today, on the first leg on its return flight to Lake Constance, Switzerland.

From Harbor Grace the DO-X will fly to the Azores, the second scheduled stop, if all goes well. From there she will hop to Lake Constance.

The ship has been in New York waters ever since its flight to this continent was completed last August.

PAINTING OF NUDE DAMSEL HALTS WOMEN'S CLUB MEET

CHICAGO, May 19.—(UP)—The plump nude damsel who leans against a tree in the painting "Midsummer" almost broke up the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs.

No "September Morn" could have caused more consternation than did the ultra-modernistic "Midsummer."

"It's damnable, damnable," shrieked a little gray haired woman who ran to the painting that had been hung as part of the art exhibit in connection with the convention.

"I'm a member of the D. A. R. and I cannot tolerate such things."

"So am I a member of the D. A. R.," shouted a district chairman.

"Then what sort of blood flows in your veins that you can look at such a thing," snapped the first woman as she left.

Miss Harriet Montgomery, a delegate from the Art club, was among the more tolerant club women.

"I don't mind nudes," she said. "But this nude isn't art. No one ever saw a nude woman who looked like that. She's anatomically impossible—repulsive."

The painting, it was explained, was by Edith Jane Cassidy, young Chicago woman just out of art school. It hung in the room where the section on law enforcement conferred on the evils of liquor, the benefits of prohibition and the welfare of the Indian.

POLICE TRY TO CLEAR UP NEW ANGLES

Request of Minister for $25,000 Deposit Being Probed By Authorities

NO NEW DEVELOPMENT

Dean Peacock Denies That He Urged Curtis on in His Cruel Hoax Plan

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 19.—(UP)—The confessed Lindbergh faker, arraigned in the home of the grieving parents he victimized, was prisoner No. 13 in Flemington jail today as police tried to clear up puzzling charges concerning his relations with other "negotiators" and a request for a $25,000 deposit.

John H. Curtis, the hoarding boat builder from Norfolk, wanted to drop all Lindbergh "negotiations" March 15, he charged last night just before arraignment, "but carried on because I had been urged by Dean H. Dobson-Peacock who was enjoying the publicity."

And Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf of the state police announced, soon after the dean refused to come to New Jersey for questioning, that the minister had asked Colonel Lindbergh to deposit $25,000 in a Norfolk bank as "earnest money."

Dean Dobson-Peacock has denied that he asked for such a deposit; he denied that he urged Curtis on in the cruel deception in American crime. The dean cited the fact that their "negotiations" did not get under way until March 23.

Other puzzling discrepancies, charges, contradictory statements, and theories also are to be investigated, including the theory of which Dobson-Peacock suggested the $25,000 "earnest money" be deposited in a Norfolk bank in his name. The dean did not recall such a suggestion, Norfolk reported.

Dean Dobson-Peacock told police of his reported mysterious trip to New York where he said he was interviewed by gangsters in a hotel.

He suggested a down payment of $500 and $50,000 C. O. D. He "would do the same thing again under the same circumstances," he told the detectives.

Curtis was in New York at the time, and phone calls from "gangsters" were traced to Curtis.

Schwartzkopf told of the reported trip to Hopewell April 28 during which Dobson-Peacock suggested the $25,000 "earnest money" be deposited in a Norfolk bank in his name. The dean did not recall such a suggestion, Norfolk reported.

Police were checking movements of Curtis the night the baby was kidnapped, and the night of April 2 when Jafie, Dr. John F. Condon, paid $50,000 ransom money to alleged kidnapers. Mrs. Curtis said her husband was at home the night of March 1. He was supposed to have been in a navy seaplane with

JACK WILMOT SEEKS FREEDOM FROM JAIL

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 19.—(UP)—Jack Wilmot, convicted artist-poet, serving a life term in San Quentin prison for murder, today sought commutation of his sentence by Governor Rolph so that he may attempt to recover his health and continue the study of art.

Wilmot, an inmate of the tuberculosis ward at the prison, has attracted considerable attention with his etchings and paintings. He was sentenced in 1921 from Mendocino county for killing Fred Prosser, his employer.

The petition for clemency was referred by the governor's office to the advisory pardon board.

GETTY ESTATE NOT TO BUY RICHFIELD

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—(UP)—Addition of two new members to the Bondholders' Protective committee today was said to preclude any immediate hope that the bankrupt Richfield Oil company might be purchased by the George F. Getty estate interests.

Randall S. Beer, president of the Pacific company, are the new members. Their addition was said by those interested to necessitate a re-start of negotiations.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

A WORD OF COMFORT

There is a compelling voice which resounds in your soul, in spite of a sense of disillusionment and of despair, the voice cries "On and on!" The immediate future looks dark and uncertain. The clouds above are black with wind and storm. Nothing ahead appears worth what you must endure of loneliness and grief.

But stay! You know, with a certainty beyond refutation, that Paradise with your beloved is sure; you realize that your dear one reaps joy and blessedness because you do not quail; you are ready to endure the hard things of today to fit yourself for the satisfactions of tomorrow. Grim fortitude is transformed into eager endeavor and you find rest in your tasks because they are hard.

BURNING CROSS ON MAN'S LAWN DRAWS GUNFIRE

Police are today seeking a man believed to have been wounded in a running gun battle between two men who last night attempted to burn a wooden cross wrapped in burlap soaked in oil on the lawn of the home of Joe McAlama, at 1907 West Fifth street, and McAlama who reported he believed he wounded one as he chased the men for several blocks down the street. This is the neighborhood in which a colony of Filipinos is housed and police are investigating to see if there is any connection with an attempt to force them from the community.

Several days ago two men came to his home and tried to set a cross on his lawn, but were frightened away, he reported. Last night they returned, this time in a truck. Two white men were seen to get out of the truck while a third remained at the wheel, it is reported.

When the cross was placed in the yard, McAlama walked out of his house and told them to get out, he reported. They resisted and he went back into the house and procured a 20 gauge shot gun. When he returned again the men ran and McAlama gave chase. He open fire on them and the fire was returned by one of the men, it was reported, but the police report of the affair does not state what kind of a weapon was used by one of the men.

The man reported the truck then caught up with them and the two men got in the truck as it moved along. One was limping badly, he reported, giving belief to the theory that he was wounded.

Police called to the scene by the shooting were unable to find any trace of the men or the truck.

McAlama could give the police no reason why the men should want to turn a cross at his home, he reported.

FANNED OUT

C. C. "Gavy" Cravath, former "King of Swat," whose resignation as city judge was requested by the Laguna Beach city council last night, effective June 1.

JUDGE CRAVATH ASKED TO QUIT: 'TOO LENIENT'

City Judge Clifford C. "Gavy" Cravath, famous baseball player of a decade ago, was fanned by the city council of Laguna Beach at its session last night, when he was asked to resign, effective as of June 1. The reasons given by Mayor J. E. Bishop and Councilman M. R. McMillan were that the former "King of Swat" was too lenient in the assessment of fines against bootleggers and for traffic violations. "Gavy" was defended by former Mayor Frank B. Champion and Councilman George W. Wilson, Councilman C. R. Clapp joining with Bishop and McMillan in asking the resignation.

Mayor Bishop opened the discussion by declaring that for what he deemed sufficient reasons he had personally requested the police judge to resign. He read a letter from Judge Cravath in which the latter stated that he would take no action until he had received an expression from the council as to what he should do. Mayor Bishop said that he and Councilman McMillan, the latter as police commissioner, had made a survey of neighboring cities and had learned that fines in Laguna Beach were not held up to the uniform scale practiced in other towns. He said that McMillan had tried to get Judge Cravath to adjust the fines in Laguna Beach in uniformity with other places but had failed, absolutely.

Councilman McMillan said he had checked the fines and that to date in Laguna Beach, since the first of the year, they were less than $200. He said the report for two weeks had showed dog licenses, $5; fines, $5. Last year, according to McMillan, the fines in Laguna Beach were less than $1800, while in San Clemente they were more than $10,000.

"We are entitled to a better break," declared McMillan. "The speeder should pay. It is not fair to the city. No police department can function properly under such conditions. They are willing to do their duty but they lose interest when not upheld by the court. There is nothing personal in this. I like 'Gavy' and have tried to talk to him. This is one reason I don't like my job as police commissioner. But I am willing to do my duty when it is for the good of the city."

Former Mayor Champion, in defending Judge Cravath's attitude, declared that the merchants of the city are benefiting because of the light fines here.

Hits Heavy Fines

"San Clemente is on the auto club's black list," asserted Champion, "and drivers would go around it if there was another road. We don't want a reputation like that. If you will canvass the merchants of the city you will find that they don't want heavy fines assessed. Cravath played ball with the Philadelphia team in the National league and later was manager of the Salt Lake City club of the Pacific Coast league. At present he is president of the Southern California Night Baseball association."

FREE RIDE TO FUNERAL

OLD TAX FUND BEING USED IN PROPERTY DEAL

First steps to return $3661.87 to taxpayers in the Garden Grove district collected more than 10 years ago as taxes for installation of a drainage system that never materialized, have been taken by the board of county supervisors.

At the last meeting the board adopted a resolution of intention to purchase a tract of land near the center of Garden Grove for the Garden Grove Water Works district. The land is between three and four acres in size and will be purchased for approximately $5000.

The land will be purchased "to be used in any way the district sees fit" with the probable intention of turning it over as a city park in the event Garden Grove ever becomes an incorporated city, according to county officials.

The first move in this purchase was the transfer on May 10 by the supervisors of $3661.87 from the Garden Grove Drainage district fund to the county general fund. This amount had been collected by the Garden Grove sanitary district as a tax for installation of a drainage system but never used after bonds voted for the system were declared invalid by the state supreme court.

Prior to levying this tax the Garden Grove Sanitary district had been formed and a proposal to vote $100,000 bonds for installation of a drainage system was defeated at the polls. This bond issue was resubmitted at a later date and carried.

Directors of the district filed an action in the superior court to have the bonds validated and Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, then on the bench in Orange County, upheld their validation.

Decision Reversed

The late Clyde Bishop and Col. M. B. Wellington, attorneys for a group protesting the bond issue, appealed the validation and the Supreme court reversed Judge Williams' decision and declared the bonds invalid on the grounds that the second election had been called without filing a petition bearing 50 signatures or representation of a majority of property title holders in the district.

The directors of the district, prior to the final decision, had requested and had levied a tax on the new district which was collected in 1920. When the bonds were declared invalid the entire proposal was abandoned. The directors ceased to meet and were never re-elected. In the meantime the money remained in the county treasury.

According to law when taxes are levied but never used, as in this case, they may be reclaimed and distributed to the taxpayers within three years, according to the amounts paid in. This time elapsed several years ago.

The plan to purchase the land in Garden Grove for the purpose of turning it back to the people either as a park or public improvement was evolved by the supervisors as a method of returning this tax money to the people of the district where it was raised.

RAIL AND ROAD MILEAGE

American railroads comprise nearly a third of the railway mileage of the world, while the highway mileage of the United States is about 38 per cent of the world total, the U. S. Department of Commerce reports.

SUES FOR $60,000 ALLEGED TO BE DUE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(UP)—Seeking to collect approximately $60,000 which he alleges is owed him, E. J. Murray, of Klammath Falls, Ore., today brought suit against Dan Maloney, of Santa Ana, and the Crocker First Federal Trust company, of that city, executor for the estate of M. C. Maloney, who died a year ago.

According to the complaint, the Maloneys appointed Murray as their representative and agent in full control of the Cow Bay Times Publishing company at Marshfield, Ore. Under his contract, he was to manage and publish the newspaper and also empowered to sell the property, if possible. In the event of a sale, Murray asserted, he was to receive a commission.

Answering the complaint, Maloney declared that Murray never had given him a full accounting of the receipts and other business affairs of the newspaper, and that he did not know how much profit had been made during Murray's regime.

S. A. PUBLISHER TO SPEAK AT DRY RALLY

Under the auspices of the San Bernardino Ministerial Union, J. F. Burke, Santa Ana newspaper publisher and "nationally known prohibition advocate," according to the San Bernardino Sun, will speak at the First Methodist church in San Bernardino at a prohibition rally Monday evening, May 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

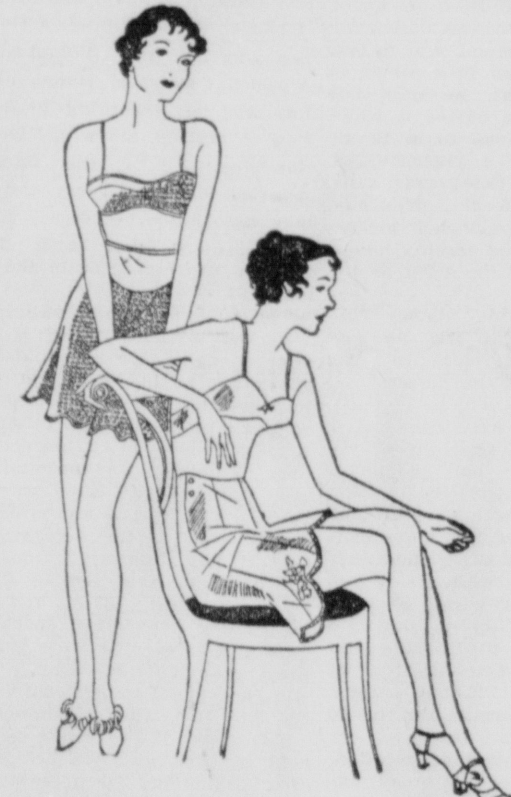

"Wet Propaganda, Where It Comes From, What It Amounts To, and Its Reputation," is the subject for discussion.

R. C. Harbison, editor of the Sun, will serve as chairman at the meeting.

EXPERIENCES OF McADOO ARE INTERESTING

The announcement that William Gibbs McAdoo is to lecture in Santa Ana next Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., giving reminiscences of his experiences in Washington during the World war, has recalled to the minds of many citizens the fact that it is as Secretary of the Treasury and Director-General of the Railroads that we now think of this picturesque statesman.

But long before he was called to the nation's capital for war service, Mr. McAdoo was living a life so full of drama and action that his war work was hardly more exciting than that which had preceded it.

Because of the popular interest in Mr. McAdoo's lecture in Santa Ana, The Register is to give a few short sketches of his career and activities both before and during the World war. His life has furnished him the richest imaginable store of reminiscences and knowledge of public affairs, notable men and outstanding events.

Southerner
Mr. McAdoo is a Georgian by birth, and, as he has been termed, a "typical product of the New South." By inheritance and disposition, he was destined to public life, and in spite of the handicaps of poverty, his course led him through college and law school as rapidly as he was able to make his way.

He began his professional life in Chattanooga, Tenn., where he was admitted to the bar in 1885, and where he promptly engaged in the line of work which was to become his specialty, or at least his hobby. He became local counsel for two southern railroads, both of them greatly in need of wise guidance and effective reorganization. Before he was 30 years old he found himself president and controlling owner of the Chattanooga Street Railway company, an old-fashioned system of local transportation which was ripe for modernization. That is exactly what Mr. McAdoo proceeded to do for it. Before he had been long at the head of its affairs, it had been transformed into a modern electric traction system, which is operating today on the lines he laid down for it.

When Mr. McAdoo landed in Wall Street in 1892, he brought

WOMAN RULES SENATE

It was the first time a woman ever had presided over the U. S. Senate when, in the history-making moment, pictured below, Mrs. Hattie Caraway—the Democratic senator from Arkansas—took gavel in hand in the upper house. She occupied the presiding officer's desk briefly at the invitation of Vice President Curtis.

with him all his keen interest in business affairs, and in New York City he found ample room for development. At that time the matter of transportation to suburban districts was a major problem. The Hudson river ferry boats were the only available means of crossing the river and all traffic, foot, vehicular and railroad, came into the city from the west by boat.

Pushed Hudson Tunnels
The scheme for a tunnel under the Hudson had been broached many years before by a gentleman named DeWitt Clinton Haskins, who had sunk a large sum in a disastrous attempt to bore his way under. The project had been dropped, and it was in disrepute as an impossible engineering problem. Mr. McAdoo was intrigued with the idea that it was both possible and profitable, and in the face of opposition and unbelief, he sold his conviction to the moneyed interests of New York, and the McAdoo tunnels under the Hudson river are the result. His successful persuasion of Wall street's magnates was long counted as one of the miracles of modern finance.

Such experience laid the foundation for his ability to respond when, under stress of the World war, a man was needed who could mobilize the national finances. As Secretary of the Treasury, he was compelled to take on the task of supervising the great railroad systems of the United States in order that they might function to the purpose of winning the war and still serve their peace-time purposes.

Patriotic Service

The New York Sun said of his war activities: "Secretary McAdoo has the advantage that he works while he sleeps. Always beside his bed he keeps a pencil and a pad of paper. When an idea comes to his mind at night, he does not trust memory. He writes it while he has it. He goes to work in the morning with a pocketful of notes. A slip of paper may contain a name, or a figure, or an address. The words have their meaning for him, and his waking hours show the results of his night meditations."

However he did it, history will record the fact that Mr. McAdoo did a patriotic service in the "crowded years" of the Wilson administration which will be increasingly understood and appreciated as the passage of time gives better perspective to our judgment.

In the lecture Thursday evening it is expected that Mr. McAdoo will cover some of the more intimate items of his experience during the war time, while he served in Washington. It would be easily possible for him to dip into any year of his life during the past 35 years, and tell a story of absorbing interest, if his natural modesty would permit him to do so.

To hear the personal recollections of a man of so broad experience and so distinguished service is a privilege that will be appreciated by all who are interested in knowing more about their country and its great history.

THIEVES LOOT GAS STATION AND DWELLING

Two burglaries in Orange county last night netted the thieves more than $500 in merchandise, household goods and clothes, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office today.

Thieves broke into the Blue and Gold service station, located at the corner of South Spadra road and Orangehorpe avenue, and stole a safe, containing $50 in cash, and numerous boxes of chewing gum, candy, cigarettes and cigars.

Entrance was made by breaking out a glass in a rear door. The entire place was ransacked and a number of pairs of socks and shirts, also for sale at the place, were reported stolen.

The thieves used a sedan to carry away the safe, as evidenced by the fact that they removed the back seat of their car, in order to make room for the safe, which was a regulation iron safe. The thieves left the seat. The loss at the place was estimated at approximately $300.

Burglars who broke into the home of C. C. Wagner on Yorba Linda boulevard early last night while members of the family were away from home, stole a watch, gold chain, a revolver, $4 in cash, a number of women's dresses and a suitcase, worth approximately $200, it was reported to the sheriff.

Entrance into the house was made after a glass panel in the rear door was broken.

HADLEY WILL GIVES MOST TO SON AND WIFE

Cutting off his sons and grandchildren with $1 each in special bequests Benjamin S. S. Hadley, Tustin, left his estate, valued at $6000, in trust to be divided 25 years after the date of his will, between his son Charles Hadley, and wife, the Salvation Army Children's Home in Los Angeles and Volunteers of America Children's Home, also in Los Angeles, according to a petition to probate the will. The petition was filed by the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association, successor to Orange County Trust and Saving Bank, named executor in the original will.

The will was dated November 15, 1926 and stipulated that Hadley's body should be cremated and the ashes buried in Fairhaven cemetery beside the body of his deceased daughter Mrs. Amelia Lambert. A plain funeral in charge of Theodore Winbigler was ordered and $200 stipulated as the price to be paid for the funeral and cremation.

Four sons of the deceased, Albert Hadley, Tustin; Arthur Hadley, of Santa Ana; Benjamin Hadley, Travers City, Mich.; and Charles Hadley were given special bequests of $1 each as were Hadley's three grandchildren Ray, Calvin and Gertrude Lambert, children of the late Mrs. Amelia Lambert.

Two-thirds of the estate is to be held in trust and the net income after deductions for necessary expenses is to be paid Charles Hadley and his wife, Louise, during their entire life. At their death the property and any unpaid income is to go to their children, or in the event of their deaths, to their children.

The remaining third is to be held in trust and the income paid to the two relief homes previously mentioned for 25 years after the date of the will; at that time the property is to be equally divided between the two organizations.

Church Arranges African Service

WINTERSBURG, May 19.—At next Sunday evening's service at the Methodist church an African program will be presented. There are two different plays being rehearsed for the program this week. One is "The Slave Raiders," a Livingston play. There will be a pantomime and the singing of two Negro spirituals. Pearl Kendall Hess, nationally known W. C. T. U. worker, was the interesting speaker at the service Sunday evening.

EXCURSION IS APPROVED BY P.-T. A. COUNCIL

The city Parent-Teachers' association today placed its stamp of approval on the train excursion for school children to Santa Barbara Saturday, as tickets for the excursion were placed on sale in every school in the city, according to Mrs. H. Heine, chairman of the public and recreational committee. Tickets will also be obtainable at the schools Friday morning.

Parents of school children around 8 and 9 years old need have no fear of allowing their children to take the educational trip, Mrs. Heine said, as there will be 6 or 8 members of the P.-T. A. on each of the two trains that will carry school children on the trip, as well as the regular train crew and uniformed police. At least one school nurse will be on the trains. Children under 5 years old should be accompanied by their parents.

The city P.-T. A. will sell ice cream, chocolate bars, soda pop and sandwiches on the train at a nominal price to insure the children of wholesome food while on the trip.

The train will leave the Southern Pacific depot at 7 a. m. Saturday and will arrive at Santa Barbara around noon. It will return about 6 p. m. Upon arrival at Santa Barbara, the excursionists will be met by members of the Santa Barbara P.-T. A. chamber of commerce and city officials. Buses will carry them around the city points of interest will be shown, including the famous old mission.

ANAHEIM TO ADOPT ECONOMY MEASURES

An ordinance abolishing the office of city manager of Anaheim and creating the office of street superintendent and purchasing agent under John Price, former city manager, will come up for passage as an emergency measure before the Anaheim city council at the regular meeting to be held Tuesday night, according to a statement made by Mayor Fred Koese.

Price will also take up the duties of city clerk, accounting department duties and the street work in the economy program being worked out by the Anaheim city council. The chamber of commerce offices are to be moved upstairs in the city hall in the present city clerk's office.

Plans to effect further economies rearrangement of work involving at least three present city employees is also under consideration.

OLDEST OSTRICH EGGS
What are believed to be the oldest ostrich eggs in the world have been unearthed during excavations at Maadi, suburb of Cairo, Egypt. They are said to be more than fifty centuries old.

JOURNEY'S END FOR BANDIT

He thought he'd "won out" in that pistol battle with a cop. But J. C. McGuire, yegman, crawling like a stricken animal into a dark alleyway, died there of his wounds. Here New York police are own guarding his body, discovered two hours after the gun fight. Companion was wounded and a third captured when a lone policeman caught them in the act of opening a store safe.

MINISTERS OF ANAHEIM ENTER POLITICAL WAR

With the avowed intention of entering the important political campaigns of the next few months with the strongest plea in years for the election to office of men who will support the eighteenth amendment the Anaheim Ministerial Union has called a meeting of all churches and organizations friendly to the fight against liquor to organize what shall be known as The Anaheim Board of Strategy.

The meeting will be held at the Anaheim Presbyterian church at 7:30 Friday night. It will be addressed by Dr. Marvin Pharr of Atlanta, Ga., an active orator and organizer. Announcements of the meeting were made in every Anaheim pulpit last Sunday urging every member of the congregations to attend.

In addition Rev. H. L. Thatcher, chairman of a special committee named by the Ministerial union, has mailed letters to The Federated Brotherhoods, W. C. T. U., Young Peoples Bible Class, Law Enforcement League, and Federated Missionary Societies urging their co-operation with the proposed local board of strategy which will be affiliated with the state and national boards of strategy.

This organization will then make a thorough study of every candidate for public office, select what it considers the strongest dry candidate, and then urge their election by a thorough precinct organization. It is said.

In his letter to the various organizations asked to affiliate with the board of strategy Rev. Thatcher says "Duties of the board shall be to inform the public through every available channel, and by every possible means, regarding the liquor issue and the attitude of candidates for public office toward this issue and law enforcement. A crisis faces us relative to this great issue for which unlimited labor and money has been expended in years gone by. We dare not retrench, or lose what has been invested. Liquor is a menace to society, and loose enforcement of law strikes at the foundation of government. The church gave birth to prohibition and secured dry laws, cradled them through the years, and the church stands ready to maintain and protect this great achievement. We therefore enlist your hearty co-operation in this movement, that will result in co-ordinating the forces sympathetic to prohibition and enforcement of law, and thus make effective definite work during the next few months determining on defeat of their enemies."

Announcement is also made that there will be no offering taken and no appeal made for money at Friday night's organization meeting. Members of the Ministerial Union Committee in addition to Rev. Thatcher are Rev. Thomas H. Walker and Rev. J. A. Watson.

J. C. STUDENTS OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR ELECTIONS

With the scheduled Associated Students election of May 27 close at hand, petitions for presiding officers for the fall semester at the Santa Ana Junior college campus are being circulated this week. Present officers believe that there will be a flood of the petitions circulated before the scheduled nomination time at the student assembly next Tuesday.

Four petitions for the presidency have been circulated. Supporters of Glover Hendrickson, editor of El Don, were the first in the field with their candidate, and were quickly followed by the names of Don Smith, James Quiggle, and James Hall. Hall is captain-elect of the Don football squad for next fall, and Quiggle has been on the executive board in the capacity of commissioner of forensics for the past semester. Smith is active in the Junior Lions and was one of the moving spirits behind the annual Fiesta heard-growing contest.

Only the name of DeWitt Bishop has been placed in the running so far for vice president and petitions have been circulated for Saragrace Frampton and Virginia Warner for the office of secretary. No one has been suggested yet for the position of treasurer.

S. A. AUXILIARY WINS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Calumet Auxiliary, No. 39, United Spanish War Veterans, Santa Ana, today held the distinction of having the best drill team in the entire state, from the extreme north to San Diego, following competition in which for the sixth consecutive time it won first place at the annual encampment in Long Beach yesterday.

Santa Ana competed with five teams, representing San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach, Oakland and Los Angeles. Santa Ana's team scored a ranking of 97.7 points.

Approximately 175 Santa Anans attended the convention which drew 5000 delegates from all parts of the state. Stockton was chosen as the 1933 convention city, and in a general election of officers Charles W. Bennett, of Alameda, was elected commander of the California department. Mrs. May Glaze of Garden Grove, was named Chaplain of the State auxiliary organization.

The Santa Ana drum corps was nosed out of first place in the competition by the Roosevelt camp drum corps which ranked a half point higher than the Santa Ana outfit.

Members of the winning Auxiliary drill team are: Bess Moberly, captain, Lila Kinkaid, flag bearer, Mary Cooper, Alton Gay, Effie Hawley, Gertrude Rowe, Katherine Reagan, Frances Moulton, Hazel Hall, Phoebe Hyatt, Jean Tantlinger, Cella Cook, Maude Brown, Myrtle Waffle, Mabel Sands, Marie Lindquist, Stella Dresser and Bertha Helmer.

The average annual income of physicians in the United States as revealed by an American Medical Association survey, is $9,674.

HISTORY OF THEATER IS REVIEW SUBJECT

Friday morning on the Book Review hour, over radio KREG, Mary Burke King will discuss "The Theater from Athens to Broadway," by Thomas Wood Stevens. The book is a complete, condensed outline of the history of the theater.

Stevens traces with accuracy and vividness the course of the Greek, Roman and Hindu drama, the theater of China and Japan, the Medieval and renaissance stages in Italy, Spain and England, the rise of French comedy and classical tragedy, the Restoration stage, and the era of the great actors and the Pan-European theater of today.

DO YOU INHALE?

... wonder why cigarette advertising generally avoids this question?

ONE of the mysteries in cigarette advertising has been the apparent fear of the word "inhale." It seems rather foolish—for everybody inhales—whether they realize it or not... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because when you smoke Luckies your delicate membranes get the protection no other cigarette affords. All other methods have been made old-fashioned by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So truly this message is for you.

Buffet Supper Given In Honor of Guest Soloist

Following her brilliant performance Tuesday evening at the season's final program of the Cannon club, Miss Gladys Pugh, guest soloist, was complimented at an informal buffet supper given by a girl friend, Miss Elnora Bignin, with Miss Gladys Campbell as co-hostess.

Miss Campbell's home, 128 Kilson drive, was the scene of the affair. Larkspur and gladioluses had been arranged to provide a lovely floral effect, and added to these were the pretty bouquets which had been presented to Miss Pugh during the concert.

Open faced sandwiches, cake, coffee, chocolate and other dainties were served, with Mrs. W. C. Campbell assisting the two hostesses.

Those present, other than the honoree, Miss Pugh, were a little group of relatives and friends from Redlands, including her mother, Mrs. O. S. Pugh, Beth Waterman and Mrs. Thomas Baker.

Guests from this city were Miss Ruth Armstrong, accompanist for the Cantando club, and the Misses Esther Jean Davis, Edith Cornell, Verna Wells, Ruth Langley, Isabel Lindsay, and Mesdames E. J. Platt, Mervyn Bryte, Dama Smith, M. E. Wells, William Taylor, Albert Schultz, Genevieve Parker, and the hostesses, Miss Bignin and Miss Campbell and Mrs. Campbell.

Church Members Have Surprise Crystal Shower

Mrs. Mildred Beaudette Shaw, whose approaching marriage to Vernon A. Mathews of this city was announced a short time ago, was honored guest at a delightful surprise party given recently in the home of Mrs. Howard Barrows, 1002 Halladay street. Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. James Vela joined in entertaining.

Mrs. Shaw had been led to believe that she was to attend a meeting of teachers in the primary department of the Sunday school of the Richmond avenue Methodist church, of which Mrs. Barrows is the superintendent.

Early in the evening, the game of hearts was introduced. Mrs. Nylin Hurd and Miss Willis Boyes were awarded prizes for scoring high and low. At this time, Mrs. Shaw was presented with a set of six plates and sherberts in clear crystal with pale green centers.

Refreshments of home-made cake, ice cream and coffee were served. Members of the Richmond avenue church who were present for the occasion were Mrs. E. Beaudette, mother of Mrs. Shaw; Mrs. Lillian Beaudette Lutz; Mrs. R. C. Bogardus, Mrs. J. R. Bruff, Mrs. James Vela, Mrs. Nylin Hurd, Mrs. Charles Hurd, Mrs. L. J. Marchant, Mrs. L. O. Bennett, Miss Mabelle May, Miss Louise Markwalder, Miss Elizabeth Wyant, Miss Caroline Cushing and Miss Myrtle Willis Boyes and the hostesses, Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. Vela.

Complimentary Program Given By Music Club At Long Beach

A lively appreciation of the part that Long Beach Musical Arts club had in the inauguration of a similar club in this city, actuated the members of the latter organization, and inspired the program which they contributed to the entertainment of the parent club, at its weekly luncheon meeting yesterday in Pacific Coast club, Long Beach.

Almost the whole membership of the Santa Ana organization motored to the neighboring beach city for the event, and the resultant complimentary program met with such warm appreciation from the host club, that every individual guest felt the warm glow of friendliness and satisfaction in having given pleasure to such a group.

Holly Lash Visel, program chairman, arranged the entertainment, which opened with the chorus numbers. Next was the Time of Maying, by Morley, and "Good-bye Beloved" (Pinsuit) sung by a group composed of Mrs. Visel, Sally Lee Soles, Irma Huffman May, Marie Bishop, Edith Cornell, Leonora Tompkins, Cecile Fross Willis and Mrs. Charles Nalle, with Miss Ruth Armstrong as accompanist and director.

Clarence A. Guelin, one of the leaders in the organization of the local group, followed the chorus numbers with two piano solos, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Martin, a young San Francisco composer, and as an encore, his own exquisite "Springtime Waltz."

Ollime Enlow Matthews, recently installed president of the club, played a group of four De Falla compositions for the violin, accompanied at the piano by Earl Fraser. As an encore she chose a number by Ravel. To conclude the complimentary program, Ione Tunison Peek and Earl Fraser played the two-piano numbers, "Sonatine Transatlantique" by Tansman, the first rendition for two pianos, on the Pacific coast. Its three movements include prelude; spiritual and blues, and Charleston, and its essential modernity in spirit and development, was an interesting finale to the program.

At the first meeting of the Santa Ana group when organization of a local club was assured, the Long Beach Musical Arts club came over in a body and gave an impromptu program for the local musicians, which was particularly enjoyable.

Lecture-Recital Series Now Nearing Its Conclusion

An intensely interesting audience assembled last night in the home studio of Ione Tunison Peek, at 1612 North Broadway, for the sixth in the series of lecture-concerts which she is giving on the theme of the piano and its growth and development.

"The Golden Age of Piano Music" was last night's theme, illustrated by compositions of Chopin and Liszt. The beginnings of the romantic movement were discussed by Mrs. Peek in her informal talk, in which she reviewed the times as well as the accomplishments of the two composers in question.

The compositions which she chose to illustrate her timely remarks, were "La Campanella" and "Sur un Sonnet de Petrarch, No. 123" by Liszt, and "Nocturne, No. 12" and "Scherzo in F Minor" by Chopin.

This series is now approaching its conclusion, and Mrs. Peek today announced that the seventh and last of the concert recitals for this season will be given at an early date. It is her intention to devote the final program to a consideration of Ravel and Debussy as exemplifying the modern school. Her series has covered the two hundred years of the development of piano music, and in addition to giving her audience a comprehensive picture of the times in which the various masters flourished, she has played over 30 major compositions. Since all of her piano work is memorized, Mrs. Peek's friends have felt a lively appreciation for her accomplishments.

Surprise Dinner Party Marks Arrival of Birthday

A surprise dinner party of pretty appointments was given this week by Miss Edith Watkins, who entertained in her home, 850 North Parton street, complimenting her aunt, Mrs. Belle Hendershot. A pink and green theme was observed in all decorations.

The occasion was in celebration of Mrs. Hendershot's birthday anniversary. Green tapers and a bouquet of pink sweet peas brightened the table where the appetizing menu was served. With the dessert course, a birthday cake topped with lighted candles, was presented to the honored guest. Mrs. Hendershot received some lovely gifts.

Those present were, Mrs. Hendershot, her son Carroll, of this city; Mrs. Millie Burnwood of Los Angeles; Mrs. Helen Wilson and daughter and son, Mildred and Douglas, now of this city but recently of Los Angeles; and Miss Virginia Watkins and the hostess, Miss Edith Watkins.

During the evening, Mrs. Hendershot received a telephone call from her sister, Mrs. Jessie Barnes, of San Diego, extending her congratulations. Guests spent the evening informally, playing games and enjoying music.

Local Pastor Married At Impressive Home Ceremony

Quietly impressive was a marriage ceremony taking place yesterday evening at 4 o'clock in the home of the Rev. F. A. Flora, 722 South Van Ness avenue, where the pastor and Mrs. Nora A. Whitmer of this city were married. The bride is formerly of San Diego and Los Angeles.

The Rev. Mr. Flora is pastor of the First Church of the Brethren of this city, and he and Mrs. Whitmer were married by the Rev. J. E. Steinhour, of Los Angeles. Lovely baskets of sweet peas and other summer flowers were arranged in an archway to form a setting for the ceremony.

For the occasion, the bride wore a handsome frock of beige crepe Romaine, enhanced with touches of lace. She was attended by the Rev. Mr. Flora's daughter, Mrs. Raymond N. Neff, of San Diego, who was gowned in white. Mrs. Whitmer's son, J. R. Whitmer, of Redondo Beach, attended as best man.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Harrison, Mr. and John Swartz and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeberg, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. J. Drake, Hermosa Beach; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitmer, Redondo Beach; Mrs. Emma Ullery, Pasadena; the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Steinhour, of Los Angeles; the Misses Gladys and Vera Flora, daughters of the Rev. Mr. Flora; Mrs. Ella Fahrney, and Miss Vivian Wine, of Santa Ana. Miss Wine played Lohengrin's Wedding March for the ceremony, and played other appropriate piano numbers.

The evening of the wedding day was made especially memorable when some 40 members of the church, arrived at the home to surprise their minister and his bride. A social time was concluded when the guests served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Cloves Praised For Criticism of Stage Saga

Bringing to her review a quality of enthusiasm which was likewise an important attribute of the book, Mrs. John M. Cloves discussed the lengthy work, "Broom Stages," by Clemence Dane, before members of the First Book Review section of Ebbl this week with a zest and appreciation that left her hearers eager to pursue its study for themselves.

The novel, an 800-page achievement, was given a strong dramatic interpretation by Mrs. Cloves, whose review emphasized its emotional character and covered competently the highlights in its development of several generations of theatrical folk.

Following the program tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. I. Perry, Mrs. Carl Newman and Mrs. Wyckoff Hoxie, with the assistance of Mrs. John Tiesmann and Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, who poured.

Members took advantage of the social interval to press their congratulations upon Mrs. Cloves for her exceptional review of an awe-inspiring work. Nearly 35 were present for the program, described as one of this group's outstanding meetings of the year. The final meeting in June will be devoted to individual sketches of books recommended by the several members for summer reading.

Conference Funds Raised at Dinner

Raising funds to be used in sending a group of young people to the Southern California conference at Idyllwild in June, members of the First Christian church entertained at the church Tuesday evening with a four-course dinner. About 140 members and friends attended the affair at which Neal McGowan of Hollywood discussed "Young People."

Ernest Hill of Santa Ana, a student at California Christian college in Los Angeles, is president of the Southern California conference.

Four o'Clock Wedding Unites Well Known Couple

With the springtime charms of May contributing a truly bridal effect, Miss Dorothy Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Rogers, of this city, and Francis Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton, also of Santa Ana, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Hattie L. Talbert, at Talbert.

The large window before which the ceremony was performed, had been banked with ferns and greenery as a background for many flowers in pastel tints. Two large candleholders bore slim tapers, whose glow added to the effective setting. The Rev. J. J. Woodson of Midway City, read the marriage vows.

Miss Rogers was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Rogers. She was a lovely bride in her long frock of heavy crepe, fashioned with tiny jaquette of angel skin lace. Crystals contributed their rich tone to the costume, completed with shower bouquet of white rosebuds and lilies of the valley. A bandeau of orange blossoms took the place of a veil.

Her sister, Miss Rose Rogers, wearing orchid orchid, was maid of honor. Her bouquet was of orchid sweet peas and pink rosebuds. Wilber Conrad of Hollywood, formerly of this city, attended Mr. Horton as best man.

For the entry of the bridal party, the bride's young sister, Miss Violet Rogers, played "Lohengrin's Wedding March."

Following the impressive ceremony, the new Mrs. Horton cut the first slice from her bride's cake, a confection elaborately decorated and surmounted by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Ice cream and other dainties were served with the cake to the accompaniment of floral appointments all following the pastoral theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton left last night for a honeymoon trip to Yosemite, making the trip by automobile. They expect to return about June 27 to take up their residence at 408 Harwood place. Both will resume their activities at the J. C. Horton Furniture company where they are employed.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Horton wore an attractive beige costume, her pretty frock, coat, hat and other dress accessories all to harmonize.

The bride is a graduate of Huntington Beach high school and of Johnson's Business institute. Mr. Horton attended Santa Ana high school and junior college.

Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton, Miss Roberta Horton, Mr. and Mrs. George Horton, Mrs. Chester Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Miss Barbara Horton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Rogers, the Misses Rose and Violet Rogers, Miss Hazel Lee, of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. W. Barnes, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Conrad, Hollywood; Mrs. Mary Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pettit, of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. William Brandy, Hollywood; Mrs. Betty Carter, Long Beach; J. Shrode, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shrode, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Shrode, Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shrode, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. A. Shrode, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hurley, Pasadena; Miss Sophie Barthole, Hollywood; Mrs. Sally Allen, Holtville; Mrs. Ollie Wadd, Escondido; John Shrode, Talbert; Mr. and Mrs. Don McKee, Riverside.

Members of Play Cast Entertained by Director

Continuing those close associations so pleasantly established during their weeks of rehearsal, members of the cast of the junior college play, "Ladies of the Jury," enjoyed to the utmost the hospitality of the director's home when Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips entertained recently at a buffet supper, complimenting the cast.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock and at its conclusion the young people scattered over the grounds of the lovely home on Lemon Heights, enjoying the charm of the surroundings and the gardens themselves with their varied flowers and shrubbery. Several lively games were played, and a feature of the evening which came as a distinct surprise to the host, was the presentation to him of a set of Shakespearean book-ends by which the cast showed its appreciation of his direction. To conclude the evening, the whole party traveled to Irvine park where dancing in the pavilion was an enjoyable finale.

Those present were the Misses Louise Leck, Bonnie Kiser, Beth Collier, Martha Hendricks, Kay Haves, May Maas, Althea Lembo, Mrs. Pauline Duckett, and Messrs. Douglas MacAdams, Dante Siricusa, Jimmie Hathcock, Howard Welch, Lecl Slaback, David Vall, Mitchell Hookins, James Thompson, Robert De Pree, Max Stull, Jack Lewis, Don Smith, Glover Hendricks, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips.

Santa Ana Woman is Great-Grandmother
Since Saturday, May 14, when a daughter was born to her granddaughter, Mrs. Bell Rogers, 1010 Riverside, Mrs. Bell Rogers, 1010 Riverside, has been a great grandmother. It was learned today that the small newcomer has been named Patricia Anne Elliott.

Mrs. Elliott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rogers of Riverside, formerly of this city. Both the young mother and her infant daughter are reported as getting along nicely.

Little Shawl Pageant Will Feature Ebbl Program Monday

A program which promises to be distinct from any entertainment offered under Ebbl society auspices this season awaits members of that organization Monday evening in the "Little Shawl Pageant" which Second Economics section women are presenting at 8 o'clock in the clubhouse auditorium.

Husbands and brothers of Ebbl members today were extended a cordial invitation to accompany the women Monday night, and Mrs. A. G. Flag urged that anyone possessing knowledge of old or unusual shawls communicate with her in order that they may be procured for the shawl exhibit which will be staged in the peacock room that same evening. Members having shawls of their own are invited to wear them to the pageant.

Plan Shawl Display
Members and guests will be given opportunity to inspect shawls ranging from several dating back many years to the more modern shawls types at the exhibit and reception, arranged to follow the program. Mrs. F. E. Coulter and her hospitality committee will direct this end of the festivity, and a homemade candy sale will be conducted by the second economics group.

Instrumental numbers, songs and dances comprise the pageant, written by Ethel Hawthorne Tewkesbury of Andover, Mass. The program was announced today as follows:

Medley of old fashioned airs: Earl Motley, pianist; Betty Smedley and Robert Forney, violinists; Mary Nau, flutist; reading, "Dance Fashion," Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe; Indian, Mrs. Georgia Lewis; young mother, Mrs. Irma Rutter; old-fashioned girl, Mrs. Bruce Monahan; dance, Lucile Lambert and Carolyn Wells; Spanish musicians, Miss Yorba; Spanish musicians, Miss Ruth Frothingham; Sol Gonzales, E. Rodriguez; song, Henrieta Armandaris; Irish music, Mrs. Reeve; Ayimore; song, Robert L. Brown; dance, Mary Murphy and Billy Maas; "Old Field Shawl," Mrs. W. C. Watkins; "Jingle Belle," Messrs. Nat Neff, Fred Rowland, C. Featherly, Robert Brown.

Program Entrants
Other participants will be, gypsy, Lorraine Turk; Victorian dame, Mrs. J. C. Metzgar; old apple woman, Mrs. J. I. Clark; Paisley shawl, Mrs. Fred Rowland; negro mammy, Mesdames H. B. Van Dien, M. A. White, F. W. Slabough and Miss Ethel Coffman; Chinese maid, Mrs. Elvott Rowland; Chinese dance, Pong Peng Pien and Pong Lu Pien; shawl of antiquity, Mrs. Ralph A. Mosher; "Kashmir Love Song," Mrs. Irma Rutter; modern maid, the Misses Elizabeth Downie, Mary Tuthill, Betty Dunton, Kathryn Corwell, Marian Brownridge, Janet Diehl; emigrants, Mesdames Joe Burke, J. L. Allen, Charles S. Kendall, R. B. Newcomb, C. E. Downie, Miss Mary Beth Newcomb, Master Richard Newcomb; goddess of liberty, Mrs. Nat Neff.

Dodley Page Harper and Mrs. Nat Neff will accompany the performers.

Quilting Club Holds All-Day Meeting

An enjoyable quilting party was held Tuesday by members of the Nimble Thimble Quilting club, who met as guests of Mrs. Henry Gatz in her home on West Myrtle street. A covered-dish luncheon was served noon, and the remainder of the day was spent making a quilt for an ill member of the club.

Those present were Mrs. Laura Goguel and Mrs. Virgil Brown, of Lynwood; Mrs. Marie Lewis, Costa Mesa; Mrs. Dolly Patmore, Irvine; and Mesdames Kate Ellidge, Florence Markwood, Lola Johnson, Lula Mitchell, Addie Thompson, Laura McNeal, Eleanor Fish, Edna Hallway, and the hostess, Mrs. Gatz, of Santa Ana.

When the club meets again in two weeks, Mrs. Gatz will be hostess.

YOU and your Friends

Mrs. Fred Forgy entertained in her home at 2428 Oakmont, Tuesday, Mrs. Fred Butterfield and Mrs. Bert Mahsfeld, both of San Francisco, who have been visiting in Los Angeles. They are leaving the latter city Saturday for the north.

Mrs. Horace Stevens, Yorba street, Tustin, has had as a houseguest during the past week Mrs. Irma Vogt of San Francisco, who has returned north.

Mrs. L. Jussner of South Jackson street, Midway City, returned Tuesday from a few days spent with her son, Paul Jussner, in Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. L. Birdwell, Mrs. W. A. Moore and Miss Amy Leith, all of Midway City, were Long Beach visitors Tuesday.

George S. Briggs, who has been confined to his home, 644 North Broadway, for the past few days with influenza, was said to be recuperating today. Mr. Briggs was taken ill upon his return Friday from a two weeks' trip to Arizona.

Coyle Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Briggs of this city, drove up from San Diego yesterday to spend the day with his parents.

Party Yields Sum For Lodge Uniforms

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peruzzi, 707 South Van Ness avenue, was the setting for a clever "hard times" party recently when the hosts, with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Trickey, entertained at cards. Proceeds from the affair will be used to buy uniforms for the degree staff of the Tustin Pythian Sisters lodge.

Fifty hundred provided the evening's entertainment, with prizes for high scores going to Mrs. Thomas Jessup Jr. and N. J. Penman. Consolation awards were presented to Mrs. George Gaylord and Penlon C. Matthews. At a late hour, the hostesses served strawberry shortcake at the card tables which were appointed with pastel linens and bouquets of pink and yellow flowers.

Those present other than Mr. and Mrs. Peruzzi and Mr. and Mrs. Trickey, were Mr. and Mrs. George Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. Penlon C. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Penman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jessup Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Prather, Mr. and Mrs. Will Leinberger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riehl, Mrs. Elva Stearns and Mrs. Thomas Shedd.

Modernettes Meet

Members of the Modernettes' club were pleasantly entertained recently in the home of Mrs. Oscar Hammarsten on Harding street at Balboa Beach. Tulips, fuchsias and many other flowers were used in decking the home for the occasion.

Bridge was played during the afternoon, with the result that Mrs. Nylin Hurd scored high, receiving a box of stationery.

Tables were spread with dainty linens for the serving of salad sandwiches, tea and wafers.

Those present were Mrs. Hammarsten and Mrs. Harold Leach, Mrs. Dwight Miller, Mrs. Elbert Blower, Mrs. Jack Patmor, Mrs. John Garthe and Mrs. Boyd Sleeper.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Current Events section of Ebbl will hold its final meeting of the year at the Laguna Beach hotel, Laguna Beach, Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock. It was announced today. The meeting will take the form of a luncheon. Those unable to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Howard Rapp, 218-E, by Saturday night. Hostesses will be Mesdames Howard Rapp, N. E. Lentz, Clarence Nisson, Vernon M. Blythe and Fred Newcomb.

The Sixth Household Economics section of Ebbl will hold a luncheon and garden meeting in the O. H. Barr home, 1608 North Main street, Friday at 12:30 o'clock.

A cooked food sale will be held Saturday at 211 North Main street by the Women's auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Members of the Elizabeth Browning chapter of the Roycroft Junto, will hold their inaugural banquet Monday night, May 23 at 6:30 o'clock in the Sycamores, Tustin. This promises to be an unusually pleasant social affair, and all members of the group with their guests, are expected to be present.

Members of the Santa Ana Country club are reminded of the monthly bridge party to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the club. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. L. McFadden, Mrs. Susan Rutherford and Mrs. Hugh Shields.

The Cradle Roll department of the First Christian church will have a silver tea and Cradle Roll get-together tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the educational building, Sixth and Birch streets. All members of the department are expected to be present with their mother. All interested are invited to attend.

The Business and Professional Women's club will hear McKee Fisk, dean at the Santa Ana Junior college, speak on "The Oriental Situation" at its meeting in Ketter's cafe Monday noon.

Mrs. Charles C. Brisco, president of the Orange County branch of the American Association of University Women, made an appeal today to all members of that organization to notify her at once if they would be able to attend any part of the three-day state session of the California

A. A. U. W. which will be held at Scripps college, Claremont, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 28-30. Mrs. Brisco and Mrs. Horace Scott will represent the chapter officially at the conference.

Members of the Santa Ana Loyol

Order of Moose will attend a boosters' meeting at the Moose ball in San Diego Saturday evening and Sunday. Dancing and entertainment will feature the Saturday night assembly, while Sunday will be set aside for business and social activities.

CONTRASTS ON KREG PROGRAM FOR TONIGHT

The second group of contrasting programs to be presented tonight over radio KREG will feature Norm Morgan and His Music in 30 minutes of the latest dance music and the Signal Hill Billies.

Morgan and His Music will be on the air from 7:15 until 7:45 and in addition to offering rhythm will feature Charlotte Morgan, vocalist with the organization.

The Signal Hill Billies will present the second of their programs for this week. They will go on the air at 8:15 p. m. for a half hour of old-time melody and song.

Both this group and the California Cowboys who broadcast daily at 1 p. m. are receiving considerable fan mail.

Studio officials are anxious to receive criticism comparing these two groups and urge listeners to send letters addressed to the program director at KREG.

TWO VOCALISTS ON NIGHT'S BROADCAST

Two vocalists of different types will entertain over radio KREG tonight during the period from 7:45 and 8:15 p. m. These singers will present contrasting programs that will please every musical taste.

At 7:45 "The Lonely Troubador" will go on the air with a new program of ballads and popular songs as a part of the daily program sponsored by Montgomery Ward and Company.

At 8:15 Joe Cummings, tenor, will offer another of his bi-weekly programs of light classics. These programs are presented each Tuesday and Thursday and are eagerly awaited by musicians in all parts of Orange county.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Spring Fevers and Spring Menus

Spring does queer things to us. Young men fall in love for no good reason and the average woman suddenly takes a dislike to meat in any form.

For both disorders let me prescribe a spring vegetable plate for dinner once or twice a week. How does this strike you?

New peas dressed with butter. Fresh asparagus on toast. Cauliflower dipped in butter, fried and served with cheese-Hollandaise sauce. Baked potato. Hot chocolate cookies with rhubarb sauce.

The peas and asparagus I leave in your hands. (don't spare the butter). The cauliflower is first cooked (slightly underdone), broken into flowerets, dipped in fritter batter and fried in deep fat. With the cauliflower serve the cheese-hollandaise sauce. Make a thin but rich cream sauce, just before serving stir in the yolks of 1 or 2 eggs, a cupful of grated cheese, plenty of paprika and cayenne. Melt slowly over hot water, then add a little lemon juice and beat HARD with the egg-beater.

As long as the oven must be used for baking the potatoes, why not bake the rhubarb sauce? Cut in inch lengths, sweeten slightly, add not a speck of water, but do add the juice of a lemon. Cover and bake until done. Cool it quickly while the potatoes are finishing. The oven is used right at the last for baking the hot chocolate cookies.

RADIO FEATURES

"The Priceless Things" is the subject which educator Angelo Patri has chosen for his talk to parents over the Columbia network including KHJ from 4:45 to 5 p. m. today. At this time he will urge parents not to put too much emphasis on the things that money can buy, but to devote proper attention to those less tangible things which are essential to the proper upbringing of children.

A musical glimpse into Lewis Carroll's immortal nonsense fairy tale, "Through the Looking Glass," will be given NBC listeners when Alfred Hertz conducts a group of selections from Deems Taylor's fanciful suite of the same name during the Standard Symphony Hour concert Thursday, 8:15 and 9:15 o'clock tonight. The program also includes Smetana's overture to "The Bartered Bride," "Money Musk" by Sowerby, the Largo from Dvorak's "New World Symphony," Liszt's "Dreams of Love" and the overture to "Die Meistersinger" by Wagner. KFI will release the concert.

Victor Herbert's gay and tuneful extravaganza, "Babes in Toyland," will be heard in part when the Caswell Concert is broadcast between 7:15 and 7:30 p. m. today over KFI.

Frazier Hunt, noted war correspondent, magazine and newspaper writer and NBC interviewer, will present his impressions of great Japanese personalities during a 15-minute talk to the rebroadcast from Tokyo over a coast-to-coast NBC network including KFI from 2:45 to 3 p. m. tomorrow.

KREG NOTES

"The Defense of London" will be the thrilling aviation story told tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. on the "Tall Spins" program. This will be a thrilling story of air raids over London during the World war, defense against Zeppelins, experiments with anti-aircraft guns and the use of blind men to spot enemy ships.

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Victor Mixed Chorus, the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra and other musical groups will combine a delightful program of selected classics to be presented tonight by electrical recording.

MRS. C. C. VIOLETT TO TALK OVER KREG

Mrs. C. C. Violett of Garden Grove will be the speaker tomorrow morning on the Woman's Hour program over radio KREG. This is one of a series of short talks to be given by women prominent in Orange county during the next few weeks.

Mrs. Violett will tell of vegetable projects being carried out by women of her district in preparation for the coming Olympics. This talk will be a part of the program outlining Orange county's preparation for the Olympics.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Hot Chocolate Cookies
1 1/2 square bitter chocolate, shaved fine
5 1/2 tablespoons condensed milk
1/4 pound shredded coconut
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon vanilla and same of almond extract
1/2 cup powdered sugar.
1 egg white beaten stiff.

These cookies are really misnamed, they should be called "Chocolate Kisses."

Shave up the chocolate and melt it over water, first mixing it with the condensed milk. Cool it. Whip the egg white stiff, add the powdered sugar as it is being whipped, then fold in the coconut, alternating it with the melted chocolate, to which the flavoring extracts have been added (don't forget the salt).

Set the oven for 325 degrees, have a cookie sheet buttered, drop small spoonfuls of the cookie mixture on the pan and bake 15 minutes.

The recipe makes about 18 small cookies. Serve them hot with some sort of chilled fresh fruit. There are about 65 calories in each cookie, energy-making, naturally!

One of the finest investments a busy woman can make for her kitchen is a small pastry brush. They come with well placed white bristles, widely spaced for cleanliness, and cost around 50 cents.

That may seem high at first glance, but just look back and see how much butter you've wasted by not having one? Toast can be buttered with melted butter without looking messy, and tops of biscuits can have their quota without waste.

Do you envy friends who have silky hair that seems to stay where put? You can have hair like that by using the right kind of shampoo.

VAUDEVILLE AT FOX BROADWAY STARTS FRIDAY

Vaudeville at the Fox Broadway two days instead of one in the future—this is the new order of things.

Starting tomorrow and playing through Saturday, the Fox Broadway theater will present five acts of vaudeville as it has been doing on Saturday only, it was announced by the management today.

On the screen will be seen "Sky Bride," starring the actors who had the leads in "Touchdown," Richard Arlen, Jack Oakie, and Charles Starrett, and others in the cast include Robert Coogan and Virginia Bruce.

The picture is declared to be a "natural." With Arlen as he was in "Wings," but this time stunting with Jack Oakie for an air circus, the crash of planes in mid air and the battle for bravery he stages to make his "comeback," the picture is packed with air thrills from start to finish. "Sky Bride" should prove one of the popular pictures of the year.

Vaudeville is being put in the theater two days instead of one, due to the popular demand made for stage attractions in the Broadway theater, it was announced.

CORTEZ, IRENE DUNN STAR AT BROADWAY

Touching the heart strings with its deep pathos and its rendering of a sublime romance, an exceptionally fine picture opened at the Fox Broadway theater yesterday.

The film is RKO-Radio Pictures' "Symphony of Six Million," co-starring Richard Cortez and Irene Dunn in a story of deep human feeling by Fannie Hurst.

It starts with a boy in the slums who becomes a famous doctor despite social and economic barriers.

It shows him as a dreamer, wishing only to heal the sick, never caring whether he is paid. He is forced by his ambitious family to move to a Park Avenue office where the rich live. There he makes money and becomes the most noted surgeon of his city. But he has lost the respect of the slums in the quest for money.

In a tragically beautiful scene Cortez falls in an operation upon his aged father and his faith in himself wrecked, he abandons his doctorate and hides from the world until he is recalled by Jessica (Irene Dunn).

The film brings a changed Corhim during the past few years in villainous roles. The doctor in villainous roles. The doctor is a sympathetic character and he says.

BIG CAST IN NEW WEST COAST SHOW

Cortez plays the role with subdued abridings and a vast amount of sympathy. Indisputably, it is the best thing that he has done to date.

Miss Dunn, similarly, plays her part of the teacher with considerable artistry and feeling.

A cast of stars is seen in the picture coming to the Fox West Coast theater tomorrow, "This is the Night." The picture supplants a double bill which is running for the last time at the theater today.

Lily Damita, Charles Ruggles, Roland Young, Cary Grant and Thelma Todd make up the cast for the new picture, which is a screaming comedy from start to finish.

The plot concerns a young man who in order to make another man believe that he is not in love with his wife, engages an actress to pose as his own wife. The scheme works well until he actually falls in love with his "wife," as does the husband of

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The toy truck soon was filled up high and Duncy shouted, "Gee, but I would like to join that flock of roys and take a nice long ride." "In fact I have a hunch I'll see if there is room enough for me. If I could find a corner in the truck that's where I'd hide."

The play man then said, "Listen, son! No doubt that would be lots of fun, but my advice is that you stay right with the Tynmites."

"They shortly will be leaving me and lots of new things they will see. I'm sure that you'd regret it, if you missed some thrilling sights."

Wee Duncy scratched his head and smiled, "I'll bet you're kind to every child," said he. "You've given good advice. I'll stay right with the bunch."

"You mustn't mind the things I say. My mind works in a funny way and often, as the others know, I get a crazy hunch."

The play man then said, "Listen, with me and all sit down by you-der tree. I'll tell you all about the way to have the finest fun."

They followed him till he sat down and then they gladly gathered 'round. 'Twas in a very shady spot, out of the burning sun.

"If little lads would mix their play with lots of sleep, by night and day, they'd grow up to be very strong," the old play man explained.

"If you are going to exercise, 'tis best that you rull realize that you must also rest a lot. 'Tis thus that strength is gained."

"You see, your muscles get tired out when you are dashing 'round about. Then, when you lie down, they relax and that is good for you."

He talked and talked for quite a while. The Tynites' interest made him smile. Soon Duncy said, "That is fine advice and that's just what we'll do."

(The Tynites sneak away in the next story.)

BONERS

William the Conquer surrounded the Isle of Ely with his feet.

BONERS are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

For what is P. S. the abbreviation?

Precious stones, plug cistern, police station, please stop, and Professor of Science.

"Each outcry of the wounded hair A fibre in the brain doth tare."

A quotation is an answer to a division sum.

In 1800 railway services still ran between big towns.

Flax is really wheat which is afterwards made into bread.

What is excise?

The duty paid on goods in pos-

Take Police Out Of Politics, Club Speaker Urges

COST OF CRIME CITED IN TALK AT PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, May 19.—It is time to begin to oil some of the cogs that are creaking in the wheels of justice in this country. Voters should see that better selection of judicial officers is made, that the standard of police officers is raised and they be given enough pay to insure their having time to look after their police work and not have to spend it trying to keep their jobs, according to Mrs. Irma Wann Buwalda, Los Angeles, member of a state commission on studying crime costs, and former member of the prison board for building an institution for women. She talked at the Placentia Round Table club session yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Buwalda was voted an honorary member of Orange County Peace Officers' association a few years ago because of her outstanding work in crime control.

Her talk yesterday swung around the need of taking crime control officials out of politics, and she urged the placing of prisoners at work for the sake of the state as well as for the prisoner. Since 9 per cent of the prisoners are turned back on society, it is to the interest of the state to not turn them back embittered and inefficient, she said.

"Crime is the outstanding problem in the United States," Mrs. Buwalda said. "It costs California alone more than $75,000,000 a year, and the figure is conservative."

"Considering that the 700,000 people in institutions are to be replaced by children in homes, it is well to consider how homes can assist in keeping down this fearful toll. We cannot blame the failure of the Sunday school, nor the failure of the school for the present conditions. We must go back to the home."

Miss Georgia Carrol, of Fullerton, accompanied at the piano by Miss Anita Stephenson, sang "Mystery of Night" and the solo part from "Beautiful Savior."

Hostesses who served tea at the social hour that followed the lecture were Mrs. S. W. McCulloch, Mrs. Halsey I. Spence, Mrs. C. O. Petty and Mrs. J. W. Newell.

San Clemente To Have Delegates At Chamber Meeting

SAN CLEMENTE, May 19.—Spanish Village Chamber of Commerce delegates to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will attend the meeting of that association to be held in Yorba Linda Tuesday evening. Dinner will be served by the members of the Woman's club of that city at the clubhouse of the organization.

Mayor Thomas F. Murphy has been named a member of the legislative and water committees and G. Scherck of the recreation committee.

NEW CYPRESS P-T.A. HEADS ARE INDUCTED

CYPRESS, May 19.—At the last Cypress Parent-Teacher association meeting of the year in the school auditorium, installation of officers took place, with Mrs. Clarence Curtis as president, Mrs. H. Hamann, secretary; Mrs. D. A. Stocks, vice president, and Mrs. Vernon Snell, treasurer.

Members of the first grade gave several readings and two songs, "The Song of India" and "In Old Madrid," were sung by Mrs. Jack Barnett. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ilo Calder, Mrs. Nina Harris and Mrs. Charles Hill.

Prior to the meeting, the second and third grades entertained their mothers. The children, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Flossie Kirk, presented a program and later served refreshments. The program was as follows: Song, "When It's Spring Time in the Rockies," by the second and third grades; two recitations, "A Question," by Richard Holmberg, and "Trees," by Phyllis Hamann; a song, "The Red River Valley," by Eleanor Miller, Jean McWilliams and Violet Snell; two recitations, "Three Jolly Huntsmen," by Patsey Jean Cawthon, and "Rhymes," by Sadie Boy and two songs, "Tramping By," Owen and Marcel Paderson; recitation, "I Wish I Knew," Billie Bingham and Marion Stocks gave a reading, A song, "Round Up Time in Texas," was sung by Violet Snell, Jean McWilliams and Eleanor Miller, and a reading, "Bruin Gets a Horse," was given by Lorraine Sexton and Mildred Boeber. Otis Kinder read a story, "The Eskimo Story," and the program closed with songs by the second grade boys.

MESA TEAMS WIN
COSTA MESA, May 19.—In the Laguna Beach and Costa Mesa ball games played on the home grounds Tuesday afternoon, Costa Mesa won each game. The first game, between the heavies of each town, ended with a score of 5 to 7. The other game, between the lighter players, ended with a score of 5 to 10.

10-Acre Valencia Property Sold By Placentia Pastor

PLACENTIA, May 19.—The Rev. Charles E. Fuller, pastor of the Calvary church of Placentia, has announced the sale of one of his orange groves, the 10 acres lying at the west end of Orange Grove avenue, Placentia, on which his home is situated, to C. S. Wilson, of Downey.

The Rev. Mr. Fuller said the sale was prompted chiefly through desire to establish a more suitable residence for Danny, a son who has been with his mother at Palm Springs most of the winter for his health. Plans are not complete yet for establishing a new home, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and a daughter, who is a student at the University of California, will take possession of the home June 14. The consideration for the property transfer, for which the amount of money involved was not quoted, was made through Lawrence Kraemer.

Election On High School Held June 7

LAGUNA BEACH, May 19.—Mrs. A. B. Collins, president of the Laguna School District board of trustees, announced today that a special election will be held Tuesday, June 7, at the grammar school, to decide the question of forming a high school district, the boundaries of which will conform exactly with those of the present school district. This action was taken at the suggestion of County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkins after a petition had been presented to him signed by a majority of the heads of families in the city.

According to Mrs. A. B. Goff, president of the Parent-Teacher association, which circulated the petitions, there is no intention of asking the people to vote on a bond issue to build a school at this time. When Laguna Beach was released two years ago from the Tustin High School district, a contract was made with the district to take care of the Laguna Beach pupils. Under a law passed in 1931, if a high school district has not been formed here by July 1, the county superintendent is obliged to annex Laguna Beach to some contiguous high school district. Newport Beach and San Juan Capistrano are the only adjoining districts. If the district is formed by a majority vote of the people here, the board will have the right to make a contract where it pleases and such a situation may continue indefinitely without building a high school.

The polls will be open from 12 o'clock noon to 6 p. m. Frank S. Browne has been named inspector and the judges will be George William Walter and Mrs. Gracie Luckie.

County Pioneers To Talk At Club Session in Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, May 19.—Early history of Orange county will be the theme of addresses to be given before the Women's club of Laguna Beach Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock by two noted residents of the county. Mrs. Agnes Yoel West, chairman of history and landmarks, will present William McPherson of McPherson, who will speak on "Spanish and Mexican Ranches of Orange County," giving details of the early Spanish land grants, and Mrs. J. E. Pleasant of Santiago canyon, who will talk on "The Old Spanish Families of Orange County."

The town of McPherson was named after Mr. McPherson's father and the speaker has lived his entire life in Orange county. Mrs. Pleasant was born in California and has lived more than 40 years in Santiago canyon. She knew the old Spanish families in Los Angeles and all of Southern California. Her husband, who is more than 90 years old, homesteaded the ranch they live on, more than 60 years ago. He told to Madam Modjeska and her husband, Count Rozetta Chlapowski, the famous "Forest of Arden" estate in Santiago canyon.

A musical program of early California songs has been arranged by music chairman, Mrs. James Patterson.

The janitor, R. G. Meyer, will be retained. The entire staff has received a substantial cut in salary.

Select New Officers H.B. Students

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 19.—John Pryor, of Midway City, was elected president of the student body of the high school yesterday defeating Cleo Smith, junior class president, by a narrow margin. Arthur Anderson was elected vice president, Miss June Rimal, secretary, and James Farquhar treasurer.

The election yesterday was a run-off of the two candidates left in the race after the elimination contest decided at the election the previous week.

70 DAUGHTERS AND MOTHERS ATTEND DINNER

WINTERSBURG, May 19.—"Mystery" mothers of the Wintersburg Methodist Missionary society entertained their "Daughters" in delightful manner at a banquet given at the local church hall, where a lovely blue and yellow color scheme was carried out. Seventy mothers and daughters were present. Each mother, who up to this time was unknown to the Queen Esther girl whom she had remembered in various ways throughout the year, escorted her in to dinner. Some of the women had two "daughters" and one, three.

Mrs. W. F. Slater, superintendent of the Junior Queen Esther group and Mrs. W. A. Matson, superintendent of the senior group, spoke. After dinner adjournment was made to the church, where the Queen Esthers entertained with a clever little play, which presented the "shocking" ideas carried out by the young of each generation, showing how the mothers of each period reared them. The scenes began back in 1895 and continued in 10-year periods to the present time. Between acts there was a musical program, Mary Helen Trece singing and Mildred Ruoff playing several piano numbers.

"Mothers" attending the party were Mrs. R. L. Thiebaud, Mrs. W. F. Slater, Mrs. W. A. Matson, Mrs. Albert Ruoff, Mrs. Clinton Brush, Mrs. John Murdy, Jr., Mrs. C. E. Pratt, Mrs. George Guthard, Mrs. E. M. Fox, Mrs. DeBuck, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. John Stinson, Mrs. Hugh Atkins, Mrs. Ray Moore, Mrs. Charles Graham, Mrs. Lee Wentzel, Mrs. David Russell, Mrs. Wm. Chapman, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. J. T. Holt, Mrs. Mills Cowling, Mrs. Vernon Hill, Mrs. Geo. Harding, Mrs. Maude Michl, Mrs. Paul Applebury, Mrs. Ila Murray, Mrs. J. M. Holt; while absent "Mothers" included Mrs. J. R. Gary, Mrs. Lily Shafer Moore, Mrs. C. M. Roberson and Mrs. Elna Beem.

Senior group girls included Bonnie Fox, Donna Stinson, Ruth Stinson, Phyllis Bradbury, Maxine Bradbury, Marjorie Cowling, Harriette Hill, Laura Hill, Mary Miller, Catherine Miller, Doris Moore, Marguerite Peters, Nellie McIntosh, Zelle Nichols, Geraldine Gardner, Jeanne Ruoff, Lois Trece, Juanita Rogers, Isabelle Russell, Thelma Bailey, Inez Garrett, Ruby Lewis, Beulah Lewis, Olive Van Meter, Ruth Ingersoll, Mary Lou Hury, Orpha DeBuck, Alice Breeding.

LAGUNA BEACH CLUB TOLD OF STATE HEROES

LAGUNA BEACH, May 19.—Postmaster Terry E. Stephenson of Santa Ana entertained the Wednesday Luncheon club yesterday with a brief history of "The Heroes of California." He pointed to two clergymen, Fra Junipero Serra and the Rev. Thomas Starr King, as being those who had done the most for their fellow men in California.

"It is an American trait to deal in heroes," said Postmaster Stephenson. "War brings outstanding figures and we Americans have a tendency to single them out for their heroic deeds on the field of battle. Another kind of a hero, revered a long time after he has passed away, as a rule, is the man who has rendered a distinct service to mankind."

The first California hero chosen for discussion by the speaker was Cabrillo, who explored the coast in 1542 with two frail vessels and who died from blood poisoning as the result of an injury to his arm by a gliding spear. He died on San Miguel island and his last words were a plea to his next in command to carry on.

Portola, head of the first expedition into the land, was praised as a man who opened gateways; Fra Serra, as a man of vision who sacrificed all that he might Christianize the Indians; Father Lasen, as the real administrator of the California mission; DeAnza, as a soldier and engineer and pathfinder. It was DeAnza who found a new way into California from Mexico, starting at Sonora and going through Arizona and the Imperial Valley. DeAnza established the first colony, bringing 150 men, women and children and horses and cattle from Mexico without a loss of life.

Woman's Arm Is Broken In Fall On Newport Pier

INTEREST RATE LIMITED

The decision of the Supreme court, which primarily is designed to uphold the law legalizing the extra five per cent over what has been commonly spoken of as "legalized interest," does more than that, as it very definitely knocks out the law under which borrowers were charged 3 1-2 per cent per month interest.

This decision of the court sustains 12 per cent as the maximum amount permitted under contract for the loans of money. It only affects those cases where the possession of the collateral remains in the hands of the borrower. The last legislature attempted to legalize and permit loans at 3 1-2 per cent per month on unpaid balances, or 42 per cent per year. The defense of this legislation was that money is not available for small loans on personality, except at such rates of interest. The bill was passed, became a law, and they have been operating under this provision.

There is no doubt but that in the minds of most people such a percentage as this would, on the very face of it, appear unconscionable. The very fact that an individual is forced, in order to obtain money, to pay such a rate as this, shows that he is in terribly desperate circumstances, and either needs a guardian or charity.

This applied to amounts of less than $300.00, and even at this rate there were many loans being made. There have been loan companies in other states which have been permitted as high as 24 per cent, and we know of one as high as 30 per cent interest.

It is exceedingly unfortunate that people who are in need, such as would force them in their distress to agree to pay such interest, cannot receive help on some other basis. Interest or profit charged for money, which in turn is to be used for the making of money, is quite a different proposition from interest charged on money that is simply distress money, used for the absolute necessities, possibly an operation or maybe a funeral.

Economically speaking, maybe they are on the same basis, but from the legal point of view, there could easily be a differentiation. Some men have, by the use of money, made 50 per cent and more in profits. A big interest charge to such folks would have a real defense. But the question arises then, of course, in the sharing of possible losses.

We believe this decision of the Supreme court is in the interest of justice and the protection of the most needy group who are endeavoring to borrow funds. It may be possible it would be exceedingly difficult for loans to be made at the rate of 12 per cent for this group. Then some device must be developed to meet the situation. But surely 42 per cent may become confiscation with a vengeance.

Schwab intimates that he was almost broke in a speech the other day. We hope he isn't in such a bad way that the government has to give him another $1-a-year job.

MEETING ADVERSITY MEASURES
THE MAN

These times, which from a number of angles seem to be getting better, are the great testing time of people. The man who comes through in the strongest form is a man of intelligence, courage, optimism and faith. It is interesting to note the attitude of different men as they meet difficulties.

Some without courage or faith are guilty of taking their own lives. Others rather collapse mentally and almost physically, and others are as buoyant as a cork. With many it indicates that prosperity and money have not only been their God, but have been their crutch and inspiration. With this fortune-making crippled or taken from them, they become perfectly worthless.

With the others, they have had a vision of service. Money-making has been a necessary incident, and they are still interested in their lives, because their purposes are bigger than the money.

We know a man in this community, who, with difficulties as great as any man meets, is spending as much or more time for others than working on his own matters.

These are the men who not only are "coming through," but are in a condition of body and mind, as business gets better, to take advantage of a situation which confronts them. The others are in no condition to carry on, even with a return of good times. There is bound to be soon an upward swing, for needs are great, and purchases are certain.

SENATE VOTES ON BEER

The United States Senate turned down two beer propositions, one of four per cent and one of 2.75 per cent. These propositions, under the guise of taxing beer, would have practically legitimized the sale of beer, changed the Volstead Act, and so it was a real test of the attitude of the Senators upon the liquor question.

The vote is extremely significant. And we believe it is significant in some cases as to the opinions which the United States Senators held regarding the attitude of their respective states upon this question.

There has been a terrific hue and cry raised by newspapers, and particularly the Literary Digest in its poll. Most of these are of little more importance than the froth and foam on beer.

Many people expected to see Congress and the Senate collapse because of the propaganda that has been carried on the last few months, but Congress and the Senate have been as firm as ever. Now these people who believe sentiment has completely changed, expect to see these Congressmen defeated this summer and fall, and the "dry" Senators who run, also defeated.

We opine that they will be fooled on this. Many of the articles and speeches of noted men which have been heralded as the expressions of new converts to anti-prohibition, have been found on investigation to be simply the expressions of men who never have been for prohibition. Take Princeton's president, for example,—Dr. Hildreth, always "wet," never "dry,"—yet an article he wrote for the Forum was given great attention as the expression of a man who had changed his mind.

The Literary Digest on the liquor issue, has proven absolutely unreliable in many cases, in other days.

We believe that Congress is a better barometer of what the sentiment is back home than almost any other barometer you could suggest. It is the Congressmen's business, and they are experts at it, to know the sentiment of their home people. They have their ears to the ground.

We will have a test of whether they or the Literary Digest are the more reliable in a few months.

In respect to our California Senators, we noted that Senator Johnson was present and voting against the beer amendments. Senator Shortridge was not recorded.

The Worst and the Best

New York Times

The story which has had its tragic and heart-breaking ending during the last week in the finding of the dead child has revealed the worst in human nature, if indeed those who committed the most heinous, heinous and despicable of deeds deserve to be called "human." It is inconceivable that any member of the race which is assumed to bear the image of God could, unless robbed of all reason, be guilty of such cowardly and devilish cruelty. There could be no welcome for him even by the fallen angels in hell.

On the other hand, the response of humanity the world around is a revelation of the highest levels of tenderness and honor to which the race has risen. The slaying of the first born in Egypt, the slaughter of the innocents by Herod the Great, were defended as acts of public policy. By way of contrast with this child's murderer, even Talthybius, who spitted Hector's child upon his spear, showed a human kindness which lightened one toll of Hecuba's hands.

For as I passed o'er yon Scamander's stream
I bathed the corpse and cleansed the wounds thereof.

The voice of grief and horror and sympathy that has gone up in these days from the whole earth is an evidence that the best possesses the hearts of mankind. The foul deed has, after all, made this child, in Kipling's phrase, the "Little Friend of All the World." But it has also stirred the best to fight the worst implacably. There cannot be a woman in America or the world with all her tenderness of heart, nor man with all his allowance for human frailty, who would not repeat the cry of Aletana against the King of Argos, who sought to slay the children of Hercules, demanding that these fiends be not free to "cheat the State."

Reasonable Driving of Cars

New York Times

If all motor vehicle commissioners were as fertile in advice to motorists as Mr. Stoekel of Connecticut there would be fewer accidents. His contribution for May is entitled "The Cardinal Rules for Good Driving." Some of them are familiar to all but beginners. "The habit of reasonable speed is a part of safe driving," he declares.

If there are not many cars on the road a speed of forty miles an hour is reasonable. Slow driving may be obstructive. When the road shows few cars, forty-five miles an hour involves no risk. Mr. Stoekel holds that to go faster may be to lose control if the unexpected happens. With congestion on the highway, there should be no passing from the rear until it breaks up.

The Connecticut commissioner believes that "if the condition could be attained," safety would be best achieved by having automobiles run in pretty much the same manner as trains. That end can probably never be reached. "But through the cooperation of all persons operating it can be approximated." Alternately fast and slow driving, he observes, creates emergencies that may cause accidents, in spite of the best intentions.

A Striking Illustration of Fast Driving Risks

The Fresno Tribune

Some ingenious person has calculated that if an automobile going sixty miles an hour strikes a stationary object it does so with the same force with which the same automobile would strike the ground if driven off the top of a ten-story building.

And if two cars, each going thirty miles an hour, collide head-on the impact is the same.

This, if the pun may be forgiven, really is a very striking illustration. It is worth thinking about. No one but a lunatic would drive a car off the top of a ten-story building. But it is considered by many people a merely routine matter to drive a car sixty miles an hour along roads upon which any intersection at any moment may place a very solid obstacle.

It would be a good thing for such people to keep the ten-story building in mind. If it did nothing else it would at least make them a little more conscious of the risks involved in fast driving.

LITERARY NOTE

No doubt the great writers of fiction
Who deal with the Problem of Mind
Can inform me and you why we do as we do,
And account for our whole human kind.
But to guess what a person is thinking
When his visage alone I can see
As he sits in a chair with a cold stony stare
Is of not the least interest to me.

I can't get a thrill from a novel
Whose author sets out to explain
When Judson chucked Brown in a mill pond to drown,
How Judson got that type of brain.
The drawing of course was exciting,
But my interest went suddenly slack
When I read that the feud which had caused it was brewed
Some twenty-five centuries back.

It may be I do not like turnips
Because, in the long long ago,
Some forbear of mine if he wanted to dine
Had to dig up a few with a hoe.
I imagine that all of my motives
Could be laid to some ancestor's doors,
Or back, I may say, to the dim distant day
When my forefathers walked on all fours.

But why a good hair-raising murder
Should be told, not in terms of the crime,
But how it began in the brain of some man
Who lived in the dawning of time
Is beyond my untaught comprehension;
The thing I am eager to know
Is wherefore and how there was such a rough row,
And who struck the skull-crushing blow.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WAGES AS INVESTMENTS

Months ago in these articles I suggested that business and industry must come to consider wages not simply as production costs, but as investments in market development as well, just as money spent on advertising is more than a cost, is in fact an investment in market development.

A distinguished business man, Albert L. Deane, aided by Henry Kittredge Norton, has just written a provocative volume under the title Investing in Wages, in which he reduces this contention, which I made months ago, to a practical plan for economic recovery and stabilization.

Dr. Deane begins with the sound assumption that sustained prosperity is obviously out of the question unless the buying power of the workers of the nation is sustained.

He estimates that two-thirds of the income of the country is in the wages of the nation's workers. If a serious blow is struck at this vast amount of purchasing power it is obvious that the economic life of the nation will race around the old and vicious circle.

The purchasing power of the worker goes down.

A sudden jolt is felt in the market.

Production finds itself maladjusted to demand.

Fear of further drop in income haunts the worker, timidity of buying even beyond justification sets in and production is further unbalanced.

Business faces a debacle.

Production and distribution finally reaches a new balance on a new and perhaps lower level.

And the forces set the stage for another round of this vicious circle.

This gives the authors their problem which they state as follows:

"It is imperative that we find a means of preventing a collapse of buying power. The expense of restoring the economic balance by catastrophe is mounting dangerously."

The next task is to devise some plan that will automatically keep them in balance.

Tomorrow I shall sketch the plan they have in mind.

HOW LONG?

"My son is now eighteen years of age. I have struggled with him since he was born but he is just the same troublesome child as in the beginning. He never learned a lesson in school without my standing over him. He played truant. He ran away. He broke into a store. He took the car out and had an accident. He will not work. How long must I endure this?"

I do not know. Sometimes as long as the child lives. Sometimes only a brief time. There are boys and girls who cannot be trained to take care of themselves and become self supporting citizens. The schools teach them the forms of education. They can read and write and do arithmetic. Sometimes they get through high school. They do industrial work fitfully and it is hard to keep track of them in any field they enter.

There is no school for such boys and girls. They are not feeble minded. They are not criminal. But they are helpless without direction and their potentialities are threatening. Many of them get into trouble with the authorities and are sent to reform schools and jails. What can we do to save them?

At present there seems to be no way out. Their people have to worry along with them until something happens. Either they start to work and maintain themselves, or they become public charges. If we had some sort of state school to which these children had to go, were compelled to go until they showed themselves fit to work outside, it would save us all a deal of worry and a lot of money.

We insist that all children under a certain age go to school. When a certain birthday passes they are free to go as they like. They are unable to sustain themselves. It seems to me that when this becomes plain to the community that the child should be taken over by the state and sent to a boarding school where he could be trained to serve a useful purpose to the people and to themselves.

Why couldn't such boys be trained to build roads, reforest, reclaim lands, and the like? Why not teach them to raise cattle, bees, poultry and vegetables? If their trend is toward mechanics they could be taught to repair and keep in order the machines of the government offices. There is plenty of work for them if we gathered them and put them into schools that taught them how to do the things they could do.

When they become proficient in their fields they could be sent out to places found for them. They could be kept under supervision for a term of years, as long as they lived if necessary. Every boy and every girl can be made useful and so made happy if we set about it.

We as a people must take these helpless children on our conscience. It is not enough to say we provided schools and they did not learn; we offered them work and they refused it. We must take them by the hand and lead them to where can get the teaching they can take and do the work for which they are fitted. The day is upon us when we must account for each child from birth to maturity. If you tell me that this is interfering with the freedom of the individual I must tell you that there is little of freedom for the child who is enslaved by his own helplessness.

GERMANS BOMB LONDON

On May 19, 1918, London was the victim of another air raid. Under cover of night, numerous German bombers flew over the city and released thousands of tons of explosives, killing 44 and injuring 179 persons. The Germans escaped with a loss of only five planes.

One of America's greatest war aces, Major Raoul Lufbery, met his death while engaging an enemy plane above the German lines near Toul. The plane which he was later demolished by a French pilot.

Australian troops engaged German troops at Ville-sur-Ancres, and took the village with 380 prisoners and 20 machine guns, a German dispatch said.
